New Pro-Business Advocacy Website

The MD Chamber of Commerce's grassroots program the Chamber Action Network (CAN) has launched a new website. The website will keep businesses informed about public policy issues that could impact your business during the 2009 General Assembly. The website will also seek feedback on how proposed legislation and regulatory action could impact your business.

The website www.ChamberActionNetwork.com will deliver public policy information in a new and interactive way. Members of the MD Chamber staff, including lobbyists will post updates to the CAN Blog. Videos will also be posted with interviews with police experts, lawmakers, and business people from across the state. Visitors to the site will also be able to communicate with their elected officials.
